RENSSELAER CENTRAL HIGH SCHOOL
RENSSELAER, INDIANA

School is-- silliness,
 hungry kids,
 formal dances,
 work outs,
 music lessons,
 lectures,
 band rehearsals,
 being important,
 visiting over a coke,
 rushing to catch the bus,
 unforgettable people.

Look into these familiar faces, search them deeply for intelligence,
determination,
discipline,
friendship,
youthful eagerness, experienced devotion.
These are the qualifications of good teachers
and the makings
of the teachers
at RCHS.

CONVENTION CITY

RENSSELAER, INDIANA

The city of Rensselaer, county seat of Jasper County, located on the Iroquois River, is a thriving, active community. With a population of over 5,000, Rensselaer is the setting of St. Joseph's College, training place of the Chicago Bears, and the home town of author Edison Marshall and United States Representative Charles A. Halleck. As students of Rensselaer Central High School, we shall always be proud of our home town.

Transporting students to and from school is the job of our bus drivers--G. Arnold, C. Malone, L. Gratner, D. Bachmann, E. Kelly, R. Clark, M. Bilyeu, C. Brown, R. Lawson and R. Craig.

Familiar faces in the cafeteria are E. Pavell, I. Nicoson, D. Shindelar, E. Gallagher and J. Hopkins.

Mrs. Patricia Wagner sells lunch tickets in addition to her duties as Secretary to the Elementary Principal. Mrs. Winifried Courtright is our school nurse.

Clean floors and windows are only two of the many responsibilities of our custodians--J. Fellmy, F. Norris, H. Vaandrager, and B. Wallace.

Jerry Hoyes is at his "Christopher Wren" best as he performs his "Little Jack Horner" soliloquy.

THE MOUSETRAP

Presented November 5 and 6, 1964.

CAST

Mollie Ralston	Sarah Barton	Major Metcalf	Steve Helvie
Giles Ralston	Ron Stath	Miss Casewell	Susie Tilton
Christopher Wren	Jerry Hoyes	Mr. Paravicini	Bob Ames
Mrs. Boyle	Roberta Standish	Det. Sergeant Trotter	Tim Childs
		Director	Mr. Tilton

Sarah Barton decides that it is "fun to be crazy!" Tim Childs continues his interrogation as Susie Tilton and Bobbi Standish wonder what will happen next.

THE MOUSETRAP is a two-act British hit by Agatha Christie about a group of strangers stranded in a boarding house during a snowstorm. A murder is committed; everyone is a suspect. The true identity of the murderer is artfully concealed to the very end.

Tim Childs begins to lose his patience as he questions the guests at Monkswell Manor! No one has taken Tim seriously and the guests are most unco-operative.

TWELVE ANGRY MEN

Presented April 13 and 14, 1964

Bob Ames resorts to "ash-tray throwing" in an attempt to get the rest of the jury to listen to him.

CAST

Foreman	Steve Helvie
Juror two	Tim Childs
Juror three	John Chapman
Juror four	Russell Smith
Juror five	Ronald Stath
Juror six	David Baker
Juror seven	Tom Schaden
Juror eight	R. Edrington
Juror nine	Allen Stath

Juror ten	Robert Ames
Juror eleven	Edward Stath
Juror twelve	Neal Haskell
The guard	Frank Shirer
Director	Mr. Tilton

TWELVE ANGRY MEN is a dramatic story of twelve jurors, all total strangers, and each trying to justify his feelings of guilt or innocence of a young man accused of the brutal murder of his father.

Russ Stath, the intellectual on the jury, demonstrates how a shorter man can stab DOWN into the chest of a taller man. An important point was proved during this scene.

John Chapman plays into Dick Edrington's hands as he declares "I'll kill him." John is restrained by Tom Schaden and Bob Ames.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council consists of three or four elected members from each class and the class presidents. It is their duty to represent the interests, rights, and responsibilities of the student body. In addition, they select the convocations, provide for the flower fund, arrange school dance schedules, put up the Christmas decorations, change the bulletin board, and recognize new clubs.

The Chaos Staff spends long (and sometimes frustrating) hours planning snapping, identifying, trimming, and pasting pictures, and writing and typing copy to meet that pressing deadline, by which time they must have squeezed into a slim, 76-page book all the wonderful memories of the past year—students, faculty, organizations, sports, and special events of Rensselaer Central High School.

In Memoriam

Mr. Calvin Beamen served Rensselaer Central High School for 22 years as one of the most dedicated teachers Rensselaer has ever had. He was dedicated to his profession, making every possible effort to help his algebra and geometry students learn and understand to the limit of their abilities. He was devoted to the student body of R.C.H.S., leading them as sponsor of the Student Council and supporting their activities, athletic events, and organizations. Mr. Beamen was devoted not only to our school, but to our entire community as a highly-respected and active member of the Presbyterian Church.

To Mr. Calvin Beamen, the students of Rensselaer Central High School dedicate the CHAOS. His memory shall always live on in the halls of his school, and in the hearts of his students.

The CHAOS Staff wishes to thank Mr. Erickson, our photographer, for his patience and cooperation.

the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are aged 65 and over has increased from 10.5 million to 12.5 million, and the number of people aged 75 and over has increased from 4.5 million to 6.5 million (Office of National Statistics 2000).

There is a growing awareness of the need to address the needs of older people in the community. The Department of Health (1999) has published a strategy for older people, which sets out the government's commitment to improve the lives of older people and to ensure that they are able to live independently and actively in the community. The strategy is based on the following principles:

- Older people should be able to live independently and actively in the community.
- Older people should be able to participate in the life of the community.
- Older people should be able to live in their own homes.
- Older people should be able to receive the care and support they need.

The strategy is based on the following principles: older people should be able to live independently and actively in the community; older people should be able to participate in the life of the community; older people should be able to live in their own homes; older people should be able to receive the care and support they need.

The first part of the paper discusses the importance of the research and the objectives of the study. It then proceeds to a literature review, followed by a description of the methodology used. The results of the study are presented in the next section, followed by a discussion of the findings and their implications. The paper concludes with a summary of the main points and suggestions for future research.

The research was conducted in a systematic and rigorous manner, following the principles of good research practice. The data collected was analyzed using appropriate statistical methods, and the results were presented in a clear and concise manner. The findings of the study are discussed in detail, and their implications for practice and policy are explored. The paper concludes with a summary of the main points and suggestions for future research.

There is a growing awareness of the need to address the needs of older people in the community. The Department of Health (1999) has published a strategy for older people, which sets out a vision for the future of older people's services. The strategy is based on the following principles: older people should be able to live independently in their own homes; older people should be able to participate in the community; older people should be able to access the services they need; and older people should be able to live in a safe and secure environment.

The strategy also sets out a number of key objectives for the future of older people's services. These include: to improve the quality of life of older people; to reduce the number of older people who are in care homes; to improve the access of older people to health and social care services; and to improve the safety and security of older people's homes. The strategy is a key document for the development of older people's services in the UK.
